QUESTIONS

Q01 | Preventive Care and Care Gaps

SCENARIO During previsit planning for a vaccination visit, an assistant finds a patient message describing a serious reaction after a previous dose of the planned vaccine. Details are missing from the preventive-care summary. The clinic's vaccination workflow requires provider review of reported serious prior reactions before a patient is marked ready for vaccination.

Which preparation best supports safe review of the preventive plan?

A. Mark the patient ready because the vaccination reminder is still active.

B. Remove the vaccine from future recommendations without asking for provider review.

C. Flag the reported reaction for provider review and gather the missing history through the approved workflow.

D. Assume the message concerns an expected reaction and leave it outside the visit preparation notes.

Q02 | Community Resources and Access Barriers

SCENARIO A patient has been accepted for a community rehabilitation program but has not completed its enrollment forms because reading them is difficult. The patient wants help and agrees to assistance from a clinic community health worker. The worker can review the questions with the patient, record the patient's answers, and assist with submission.

Which action best helps the patient obtain the available service?

A. Mail another copy of the same forms and document that enrollment support is complete.

B. Arrange the community health worker's help and follow up on submission of the completed forms.

C. Tell the program that the patient has declined participation because the forms remain incomplete.

D. Complete the forms using assumed answers so the program can start services without further contact.

Q03 | Patient Education and Self-Management Support

SCENARIO During a video education session, an assistant asks a patient to demonstrate the steps on an approved glucose-meter training checklist using a demonstration kit. The patient's hands and supplies remain outside the camera view. The patient says the steps are finished, but the assistant cannot observe them. The connection otherwise works well.

Which adjustment best allows the assistant to evaluate the teaching?

A. Record successful demonstration because the patient reports finishing the steps.
B. Ask the patient to read the checklist aloud while keeping the demonstration out of view.
C. Replace the approved meter instructions with a simpler technique described from memory.
D. Help position the camera to show the training kit and have the patient repeat the demonstration.

Q04 | Preventive Care and Care Gaps

SCENARIO A screening completion report is scanned into the correct patient's record. The provider has verified the report and documented the completion date. The preventive registry still lists the screening as incomplete because it reads only a structured completion field, which is blank. Clinic policy permits trained assistants to enter verified dates and source references into that field.

Which action best corrects this tracking problem?

A. Enter the verified completion date and source in the designated field under clinic policy.
B. Request a repeat screening because the registry currently shows a care gap.
C. Enter today's date as the screening date because that is when the registry is being updated.
D. Remove the scanned report so the clinical record and registry both show no completion.

Q05 | Referrals and Care Transitions

SCENARIO A specialist receives a referral order and supporting records but asks the primary care provider to clarify the clinical question before triage. The order says only "evaluate," and the specialist cannot determine the requested consultation focus. The assistant is coordinating the reply and has no additional provider explanation.

Which action best resolves this referral barrier?

A. Infer a diagnosis from the supporting records and add it as the consultation focus.
B. Request clarification from the ordering provider and send the authorized response to the specialist.
C. Resend the unchanged packet and record the specialist's question as answered.
D. Ask the patient to select the clinical question that should appear on the referral order.

Q06 | Patient Education and Self-Management Support

SCENARIO A patient wants to follow a dietitian's established meal plan but says its examples omit the traditional foods eaten at home. The patient asks how familiar meals could fit. The dietitian accepts follow-up requests to adapt examples while preserving the prescribed nutrition goals; no substitutions have yet been approved.

Which response best supports culturally appropriate self-management?

A. Advise replacing familiar meals with the printed examples before considering adaptations.
B. Approve familiar recipes as direct equivalents without asking about ingredients or portions.
C. Give the same example menu again and defer discussion of familiar meals until the next annual visit.
D. Gather examples of the patient's usual meals and arrange dietitian follow-up to adapt the plan.

Q07 | Community Resources and Access Barriers

SCENARIO A patient reports having no safe place to sleep tonight but no current injury or acute medical symptoms. The patient asks for help. The directory lists a rental assistance program with a multiweek application process and a same-day shelter intake service. The clinic social worker coordinates urgent housing connections; shelter availability must be confirmed.

Which connection best matches the patient's immediate need?

A. Connect the patient with the social worker for same-day shelter intake and confirmation of current availability.
B. Give only the rental assistance application and advise the patient to wait for its processing.
C. Assure the patient that a shelter bed is reserved because the shelter appears in the directory.
D. Schedule a routine housing-resource discussion next month without addressing tonight's need.

Q08 | Preventive Care and Care Gaps

SCENARIO A provider's documented diabetes care plan includes a retinal screening that is due now. The patient reports a recent optometry visit for new glasses. The available receipt lists refraction only. The clinic's tracking reference requires documentation that retinal screening was performed; a refraction receipt alone does not establish that service.

Which action best establishes whether the preventive requirement has been met?

A. Mark retinal screening complete because an optometry visit occurred recently.
B. Use the eyeglass prescription date as the date of a verified retinal screening.
C. Request documentation of the eye services actually performed and route it for the provider's screening review.
D. Tell the patient a second optometry visit is unnecessary because new glasses imply normal retinal findings.

Q09 | Referrals and Care Transitions

SCENARIO An assistant sends a time-sensitive post-discharge handoff to the designated care coordinator. An automatic reply states that the coordinator is on leave and the inbox is not monitored. Clinic policy requires these handoffs to reach the covering clinical team through the coverage directory, with receipt acknowledged.

Which action best prevents the handoff from being lost?

A. Send the same message to the unmonitored inbox again and mark the handoff delivered.
B. Use the coverage directory to route the handoff to the covering team and confirm acknowledgment.
C. Wait for the named coordinator to return because an assigned inbox is sufficient for continuity.
D. Transfer the clinical follow-up decisions to the patient without notifying a covering team.

Q10 | Community Resources and Access Barriers

SCENARIO A caregiver already has reliable respite coverage for a spouse with dementia. The caregiver asks for practical training in organizing daily care routines and says that additional time away is not the current need. The directory lists a caregiver skills workshop, an adult day program, and household delivery services.

Which resource should the assistant explore with the caregiver?

A. The adult day program, to offer additional supervision coverage during the week.
B. A grocery delivery service, to reduce the time the caregiver spends on household errands.
C. The caregiver skills workshop, with confirmation that its content and enrollment fit the request.
D. A general transport program, to make the spouse's medical appointments easier to attend.

Q11 | Referrals and Care Transitions

SCENARIO A specialist consultation is complete, the report has been reviewed by the primary care provider, and the provider has entered a follow-up plan. The patient has not received that plan and believes no further action is needed. The clinic's referral-closure checklist also requires communicating the provider's plan to the patient and documenting that communication.

Which remaining action is needed before closing this referral?

A. Request another copy of the consultation report even though it is already available and reviewed.
B. Ask the specialist to repeat the consultation because the patient has not received the follow-up plan.
C. Close the referral now because the report and internal provider review are complete.
D. Arrange communication of the documented plan through the clinic workflow and record that the patient received it.

Q12 | Patient Education and Self-Management Support

> SCENARIO A provider approves a walking plan allowing the patient to start with 5 to 10 minutes on two or three days each week. The assistant is trained to help the patient choose a specific starting step within that range. The patient initially selects 10 minutes on three days but reports little confidence in carrying it out and asks for a more manageable start.

Which action best supports an achievable self-management goal within the approved plan?

A. Keep the initial goal unchanged and focus on reminding the patient to try harder.

B. Help the patient choose a smaller specific step within the approved range and arrange a progress check.

C. Increase the goal beyond the approved range so the initial choice seems easier by comparison.

D. Defer setting a specific goal until the patient reports full confidence in the initial choice.

DETAILED EXPLANATIONS

Q01 | Correct answer: C

Flag the reported reaction for provider review and gather the missing history through the approved workflow.

The reported reaction is relevant to the planned preventive service and must be visible to the provider under the supplied workflow. The assistant gathers and routes the history without deciding that vaccination is either safe or permanently contraindicated.

Q02 | Correct answer: B

Arrange the community health worker's help and follow up on submission of the completed forms.

The barrier is completing written enrollment steps, and the available worker can provide the specific assistance requested. The patient should remain the source of the answers; incomplete paperwork does not establish refusal, and sending another copy does not address the reading difficulty.

Q03 | Correct answer: D

Help position the camera to show the training kit and have the patient repeat the demonstration.

Skill verification requires observing the relevant steps, so the camera view must allow the demonstration to be assessed against the approved checklist. A verbal completion report or reading the checklist does not show performance, and the technical limitation does not justify changing device instructions.

Q04 | Correct answer: A

Enter the verified completion date and source in the designated field under clinic policy.

The completion is already verified; the problem is that the approved registry field does not contain the documented information. Entering the actual completion date and its source corrects data capture without repeating a service or inventing a date.

Q05 | Correct answer: B

Request clarification from the ordering provider and send the authorized response to the specialist.

Clarifying the clinical purpose requires the ordering provider's input, which the assistant can obtain and transmit. Supporting records do not authorize the assistant to infer a diagnosis or consultation focus, and resending an unchanged packet leaves the actual question unresolved.

Q06 | Correct answer: D

Gather examples of the patient's usual meals and arrange dietitian follow-up to adapt the plan.

Usual meal examples give the dietitian practical information for making the existing goals usable in the patient's life. The assistant can facilitate that adaptation without banning a cuisine, authorizing unreviewed substitutions, or replacing the individualized nutrition plan.

Q07 | Correct answer: A

Connect the patient with the social worker for same-day shelter intake and confirmation of current availability.

The immediate need is a safe place tonight, so the same-day intake pathway is more relevant than a program with a multiweek process. The social worker can help establish what is actually available; a directory entry alone does not guarantee placement.

Q08 | Correct answer: C

Request documentation of the eye services actually performed and route it for the provider's screening review.

The service documented on the receipt is not enough to verify the particular screening required by the supplied tracking reference. Obtaining details of the actual examination allows the provider to determine whether the requirement was met without the assistant inferring retinal findings or choosing a new interval.

Q09 | Correct answer: B

Use the coverage directory to route the handoff to the covering team and confirm acknowledgment.

The automatic reply shows that the original route will not reach an available team member. Following the coverage pathway and confirming acknowledgment establishes an actual handoff; successful message transmission alone does not establish acceptance by a responsible recipient.

Q10 | Correct answer: C

The caregiver skills workshop, with confirmation that its content and enrollment fit the request.

The stated need is skill development, and the workshop is the resource designed for that purpose. Existing respite coverage does not provide the requested training; a useful referral matches the caregiver's current goal rather than assuming all caregiver needs require more supervision coverage.

Q11 | Correct answer: D

Arrange communication of the documented plan through the clinic workflow and record that the patient received it.

The missing step is delivery of the already established follow-up plan to the patient. Report receipt and provider review do not substitute for that required communication; the assistant should facilitate the authorized instructions rather than reinterpret the report or order another consultation.

Q12 | Correct answer: B

Help the patient choose a smaller specific step within the approved range and arrange a progress check.

A smaller patient-selected step within the authorized range can improve feasibility without changing the provider's clinical boundaries. Making the step specific and checking progress supports action planning; low confidence should prompt exploration and adjustment rather than pressure or indefinite delay.
